

Secure Sports & Entertainment Events with ID Card Printers & Readers

Every great event requires great security. Efficient identification and badge-printing solutions mean you can easily provide participants, fans, talent, and staff the credentials and access they need to perform their best. From marathon runners to last-minute security hires, our identification solutions can be the one-stop system for identification verification and secure access management for your event or venue.

Solving Sports & Events Complexities

At Pointman Technologies, we pride ourselves on collaborating with our customers to set them up with the ideal security technology. We offer a wide range of ID card printers and readers to help any size and type of entertainment or sports event run smoothly. Our goal is to optimize your security, helping your event run as efficiently and safely as possible. Put our flexible, reliable sports and entertainment event technology to work for you.

- Access Control of Mass Crowds: Using secure ID cards and badges can help you streamline the flow of people at a race, concert, sporting event, or other large-crowd gathering. With reliable card printers and card readers from Pointman Technologies, getting ID cards in place is simplified and security is amplified.
- Instant Issuance for High-Turnover Positions: Using an identification card solution from Pointman Technologies, you can use an in-house card printer to create instant badges and ID cards for your event staff and talent. If you bring on additional event staff at the last minute or choose to change access to certain areas as you handle the unexpected, you can create new badges or adjust the access given by existing badges
- Access Point Issuance: Pointman Technologies enables you to equip each access point with a card reader that allows permissioned people through while preventing access for general event attendees. You can streamline your security staff and ensure you have the right hands available at the right places.
- Top-of-the-Line Technology: Pointman Technologies offers top-of-the-line smartcard technology. This is the same computerized chip technology you see in all chipped credit and debit cards. It quickly and securely stores information. Pointman Technologies' card readers are built on highly reliable and secure technology. With these card readers, your staff can easily control access to ticketed and/or restricted areas.
